

Service adjustments to Asquith

From 30 September, Transport for NSW will be making adjustments to Central Coast train services. Some students travelling between the Central Coast and Asquith in the morning and afternoon may need to adjust their travel.

From Gosford and Woy Woy

- The 7.39am limited stops service from Gosford will no longer operate.
- Students can catch the 7.47am direct service from Gosford which arrives at Asquith at 8.32am.

From Point Clare, Tascott and Koolewong

- The current direct service arriving at Asquith at 8.31am will be removed.
- From 30 September, students should catch the service arriving at Berowra Platform 1 at 8.14am.
- From there, students can make a same platform connection onto the 8.24am service which arrives at Asquith at 8.32am.

Students from Wondabyne, Hawkesbury River and Cowan who wish to arrive in Asquith by 8.32am can continue to travel to Asquith as they do today. The same applies for students between Wyong and Narara.

Central Coast students who need to arrive at Asquith earlier than 8.32am should catch a service to Berowra, where they can make an easy connection to a T1 North Shore line service to Asquith. One option is to catch the 7.23am Gosford service which arrives at Berowra at 7.58am (stops include Woy Woy, Wondabyne, Hawkesbury River and Cowan). From Berowra, students can connect to the 8.03am service to Asquith, arriving 8.12am.

Early morning students from Lisarow and Niagara Park will have to change at Woy Woy first to connect to a Berowra service before catching an Asquith-bound service.

In the afternoon, the 2.54pm Asquith to Newcastle service will no longer stop at Asquith. Students should catch the 2.36pm Asquith to Hornsby service and connect to the 2.53pm Newcastle-bound service which stops at Woy Woy, Gosford, then all stations to Newcastle.

Minor adjustments may be made to arrival or departure times. Students will be able to plan their trips from early September by visiting transportnsw.info. Staff will be on hand to assist customers. Regular announcements on board trains and at stations will also be made to ensure a smooth transition.
